

Security Awareness Training Worksheet and Acknowledgment

ReliaQuest employees, interns and temporary employees have access to valuable ReliaQuest resources, sensitive data, and internal and external networks. Consequently, employees are expected to behave in a responsible, ethical, legal, and security aware manner whenever accessing or otherwise handling ReliaQuest information and networks.

The purpose of this Security Awareness Training Worksheet and Acknowledgment (“Security Worksheet”) is to provide Employee with the basic knowledge and training relating to ReliaQuest’s information security policies and procedures prior to Employee obtaining access to ReliaQuest’s facilities, equipment, systems, and network.

Employees must adhere to all federal, state, and local laws governing information security and use of company resources, and ReliaQuest’s information security policies, which will be provided to Employee for review and acknowledgment as part of the onboarding process and consist of key requirements including, but not limited to the following:

1. Employees must make best efforts to protect passwords/credentials and secure resources against unauthorized use or access. Employees must never share passwords with anyone, including the Help Desk team.
2. Employees must comply with the policies and guidelines for any specific set of resources to which they have been granted access.
3. Employees must secure their workstations by logging off or locking their session when the device will be unattended.
4. Because information contained on portable devices (such as laptops) are especially vulnerable to theft and unauthorized access, special care should be exercised to protect such devices. Devices should never be left unattended or within public access or view (for example, in a car, hotel, or on an airplane, etc.)
5. Employees must use extreme caution when opening e-mails, email attachments or email links, especially those received from unknown senders, which may contain viruses or malware.
6. Employees must immediately report any known or suspected security violations/incidents to their lead or manager, security@reliaquest.com, and legal@reliaquest.com.
7. Employees must not disclose sensitive information or data at any time, except on a “need to know” basis.
8. Employees must not access information for which they have no legitimate nor authorized “need to know” business purpose.
9. ReliaQuest’s and customers’ information and resources are the sole property of ReliaQuest and must not be taken for current or future personal or professional use as this behavior constitutes theft and is expressly prohibited.
10. For any IT related questions or issues, Employees should reach out to helpdesk@reliaquest.com.

Please note that individuals found to be in violation of any ReliaQuest policy may be subject to disciplinary action in accordance with ReliaQuest’s applicable disciplinary policies.
